

we have not done enough good deeds to supersede the quota of our obligations which we must perform. Only by superseding our quota of obligations can we break the bondage of destiny.

People who are grateful embrace happiness. It is common human reaction to be grateful to those who help us. What's more important is to pass this "love" to the next person. Pleasure from any entertainment is short-lived; developing one's own awakening lasts forever.

Build a small shrine of Buddha in your heart is better than building a large mansion expending a fortune. People can easily identify things needed for daily living; yet rarely notice what is required for their own soul.

MAN LOSES MANY OPPORTUNITIES BY BEING A BYSTANDER. When we leave here, we can take nothing with us. All we can take is the merits and mistakes of this life.

EVERYONE CAN BE A BUDDHA – Everyone is Kuan-Yin (Avalokitesvara, God of Mercy) because we all have eyes to look at things and people under heaven. We have ears that can listen to the sound from the hearts of other people. We also have soul and wisdom. It depends upon our ability to use what we see and what we hear as the key to our awakening. If we have this ability, we are following Kuan-Yin.

Success is being thorough at the beginning, hard-working through the process and persistence until last minute.

Thank-you and let each one of us take the first stride and lead and endeavour to change ourself and lead others in order for all of us to be healed and heal our world so that everyone can enjoy a peaceful, healthy and clean world.
