My health condition I would say is normal, by chance a friend of mine briefly mentioned about “Longevityology” to me, I did not understand it in the beginning, slowly little by little and discovered that the extraordinary energy that cannot be ignored.

Having had the chakras opened during the course, not much reaction experienced, through meditation and sitting quietly, slowly I could feel the energy seems travelling through the whole body, suddenly the whole body so relaxed. In addition, I found that my body and mind quiet down naturally through meditation, and I am now less temperamental.

During summer holiday, my son goes for swimming lessons, so carelessly he injured his leg in the pool, it started bleeding, immediately I applied adjustments to C7 and the area affected, a few minutes later, condition seems stable, my son told me that he could hot energy in the affected area, at that time my confidence in Longevityology increased double.

“Longevityology”, from chakras opening, taking in universal energy, letting us using this energy to help people and self healing, this mysterious energy can not be ignored, the abundance of universe energy waiting for us to make use of it, and also showing human’s limitless intelligence and natural talents.

Symptoms and adjustments : Bleeding wound – C7 + affected area.
