Through a friend's recommendation, I attended the primary and intermediate courses of Longevity, feeling happy and learned. On the first day of the primary course, had C7 and C6 chakras opened, no significant reaction observed. But next day morning, travelling south to Kaoshung, the coach I was on had an accident, the bracket of the television fallen on my head, made a wound of 4.5mm on the head, it was bleeding non-stop. The accident happened near Kwansea area, waiting for the hospital to send an ambulance to the accident site would take more than half an hour. Meanwhile I placed my hand on the wound. I did not expect it stopped bleeding after a short period, no further bleeding after reaching the hospital. I was frightened at that time, did not know what to think, afterward it came to my mind that it must be related to chakras opening during Longevity, through the hand to conduct the universal energy and stimulate the power to stop the bleeding. In here, I am very grateful that I have learned Longevity, because of Longevity, it reduced a lot of pain and suffering for me in this accident.

In this incident, been told by the nurse that the wound would be more painful in the next day, but thank goodness, I phoned teacher Lin the same day of accident, next day, thanks sincerely to teacher Lin who treated me. The wound was a bit painful, but after treatment from teacher Lin, the wound condition improved, no other unwanted effects happened as the nurse warned, in here, a special thanks to teach Lin.

The philosophy of Longevity is to be benevolent to safe people. As teacher Wei said, be grateful to the people who have helped us, in human nature, the most important thing is how you pass on this special good deeds.

I am very grateful for the opportunity to have learned Longevity, from now on I would always remember the teacher's emphasis on, always ready to extend both hands and to keep the good deeds going.

In here, may the light of Longevity shine through around the globe; brighten every corner of the world.
