

feel better soon, although the pain will return, at least with the adjustments, it is able to reduce a lot of pain. My wife's grandmother had colon cancer, after investigations, doctor said this condition would require surgery to confirm the stage of the disease. After the surgery, doctor confirmed that it was in late stage, and said she would not hold on too long. Whenever I have time, I apply adjustments for her, during adjustments, it is noticeable that the colour of her face turns red, able to move herself, even during adjustments she goes to sleep (a lot of time she could not sleep due to the pain), grandma herself said she feels "great" to have adjustments.
